USED GASOLINE WITH FATAL RESULTS

3 Children Lose Lives and Their Parents Are In Serious Condition

Truro, N. S., April 17—Three children lost their lives, their mother was badly burned and their father had both legs broken as the result of a fire in their home this morning.

The family, Mr. and Mrs. T. Harrington and their three children, resided in a tenement on the second storey of the J. E. Davison building, corner Dominion and Prince streets, about the centre of the town.

Mr. Harrington is a painter, and used gasoline to get a quick fire in the kitchen range, with the result that the flames flared up and so quickly spread that it was found impossible to extinguish them. The three children in the family were either burned or suffocated to death, and their bodies were found afterwards, one in a corner of the room and the other two huddled together in another part of the room.

Mrs. Harrington was badly burned and Mr. Harrington had his both legs broken when he jumped from a window, and both are in hospital.

MORINE'S GODFATHER ON THE WRONG TRACK

Sir Michael Cashin's attack upon Dr. Campbell is Cashin-like and illogical. Sir Michael said "Campbell is not a Newfoundlander at all. He has been only here for a few years and is likely to pick up his bag and go any day." Sir Michael thinks that because Dr. Campbell did not happen to be born in Ferryland District he is not fit to live in the country, certainly not fit to have anything to do with politics. Sir Michael Cashin forgets that the man he took to his bosom and made his Attorney General a few years ago was the notorious Alfred B Morine. Dr. Campbell is a much younger man than Mr. Morine, but has spent more years of his life in Newfoundland than Mr. Morine. When Dr. Campbell came to Newfoundland he came here to settle down and stay, and he stayed. Mr. Morine has been spending his time jumping from Newfoundland to Canada. One day he will be running an election in Newfoundland He then will go down to Canada and run an election down there, get licked in Canada and come back to Newfoundland, get licked in Newfoundland and go to Canada. Mr. Morine will soon be buying an aeroplane so that he will be able to sleep at his home in Toronto and spend his days here, because he can earn a living better in Newfoundland than he can in Canada where he came from. The last man in the House of Assembly to attack Dr. Campbell because he did not happen to be born in Ferryland District is Sir Michael Cashin, who became the foster-father of Canadian Morine' Advocate.

SIAMESE TWINS

The Siamese twins Rosa and Josefa Blezek died in hospital in Chicago March 30. A fortune of $100,000 is left and the Probate Court has a knotty problem to decide as to their heir. Franz, a eleven year old boy claims the money; he is the son of one of the dead twins. Is the son of both?

Frank Blazek, a brother of the dead twins, has also put in his claim as an heir.

These twins were born 42 years ago. The father 85 years of age is living. During a tour of the world these twins acquired much wealth.

The original Siamese twins, Chang and Eng, were of Chinese parentage and were born in Siam in 1811.

They were discovered on the bank of the Siam River and purchased from their mother by an American, Robert Hunter, who took them to New York in 1829. They made lots of money, settled in North Carolina where they married two sisters and had several children.

They died on July 17, 1874, within 2½ hours of each other.

Here and There

A total of 99.109 children were enrolled in the provincial schools of Saskatchewan during 1913, according to statistics; to-day the total is about 175,000 and the cost of school administration is about $7,200,000, as compared with $3,635,353 in 1913.

Victoria, B.C.—In British Columbia 603.548 cases of salmon were packed in 1921, and six million dollars was realized. France absorbed a large proportion of the 192,906 cases of pinks, and Great Britain took more than half of the sockeye pack of 163 914 cases.

Lancaster, Penn., boasts of having the only six-generation family in the State. The head of the family, Mrs. Fora Miller, is 104; her daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Rump, is 82; the grand-daughter, Mrs. Elsie M. Zug, is 64; Mrs. F. Macginder, the great-grander-daughter is 42 the great-great-grand daughter, Mrs. Hulda Royer, is 18, and the sixth generation is her son or the great-great-great-grandson, Wilbur Royer, 5 months old.

New Glasgow, April 16—Stanley Paris, aged 7 years, shot himself through the heart this afternoon. He had found a revolver, which was the property of a relative, lying on a shelf, and took it down to play with. Notes And Comments

The Legislative Council or Upper House of Queensland, Australia, has been abolished.

The Government has reduced the sessional pay of the Members of the House of Assembly and of the Legislative Council.

Canada has had a salestax for two years, and since its inception in 1920 it has yielded a revenue of of $99,225,145.

Terrific storms which at some points became tornadoes, swept across the central states of United States last Monday causing death of over thirty persons. One instance is reported where a girl was carried out of her bed and was found a mile away, with her back broken.

In another column of this issue is an interesting life story of a Bay of Islands boy, remembered no doubt by many of the older people both of here and at Bonne Bay, though unknown to the young people. The story reads like fiction, but proves that the bare footed scanty clad Dick Quick was imbued with full share of that indomitable spirit of push and perseverance for which so many sons of Terra Nova have been noted. We congratulate Capt. Richard Quick upon the success he has attained and trust that he will be spared many years to enjoy the laurels, the fruits of his labours.

COW HEAD AND PARSON'S POND

At this place during the winter Mr. Ben Payne, J.P., has been usefully employing men on Government work in the woods. Large quantities of sticks have been cut and will go through his mill when the ice goes and he is able to get the necessary water power.

Two fishermen are building new boats for the fishery at the Settlement.

Half-a-dozen men have gone to Hawke's Bay, where they have got work pit prop cutting.

It is expected that fewer men will go fishing than in previous years.

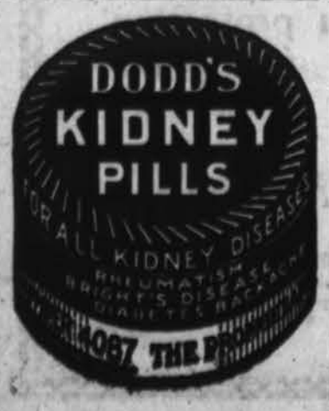
The fishermen of this part of the coast are also being helped by the early starting up of the Oilfield at Parson's Pond. It is stated that new wells will be drilled and the fishermen are already guaranteed a supply of local gasolene when the fishery starts.

THE SEAL FISHERY

The Seal voyage to-date amounts to 110,630 made up as follows:

Sagona	8 908
Ranger	4.296
Thetis	15 825
Seal	4 978
Viking	19.373
Eagle	15 200
Terra Nova	22,950
Neptune	19.100

Several steamers are out on the second trip.



MYSTERIOUS DISAPPEARANCE OF "MAYOS"

A Deer Lake Tobacco Story

When Mr. Henry, Parson's Pond landed at Deer Lake on a recent Sunday, his baggage was placed near the end of the platform. It was dark, but in the moonlight he saw his grips in a pedestral of snow. There were three of them in charge of a "caddy" boldly and black labelled "Mayo's." The popular and irresistible trade mark was the lure. The owner went into the telegraph office, and in three minutes the white box had disappeared and became a dark mystery of this well known but seldom seen station. Later search revealed nothing definite, and Mr. Henry informing us of the facts, has asked us to state that he will be pleased to pay generous ransom money. As a fact, he deeply feels the loss of the tobacco because it was the kind and generous gift of the Imperial Tobacco Co., St. John's, and was given by them (per Mr. R, M. Patterson) as a prize at a regatta to be held next month in aid of the Grenfell Institution. The gift of the Company included a number of tins of "Gems" which were safe in one of the grips. In his letter he says; "I hope the person who could not resist the spell of these famous little friends of the fishermen, will if they are not already converted into smoke, retain the precious tags and send a conscience contribution to the Grenfell sport's fund. It was, after all, a poor Sunday action to go away into the night with such popular products of Newfoundland industry intended by the donors to help in such a splendid cause. The question is, who is going to make good the loss to the fund, the kidnapper or me? If he remits, he will have that same satisfied feeling (vide advertisement) that I will have when I see that the Grenfell Institution loses nothing by this mysterious incident at Deer Lake. The moral for the traveller is: When you are crossing Newfoundland with a good thing, which is in great request and practically in everyone's mouth; watch it all the time, but never so keenly as when you drop off at a small way side station on a cold winter's night, and are most likely to need it round the camp fire, my experience at midnight, Sunday, March 5th. I trust this appeal in your columns will lead to the restoration of the missing white box or the receipt of conscience money, which I will be pleased to acknowledge."

BAY OF ISLANDS MAN ROBBED AT NORTH SYDNEY

Eben Pye, of Petrie's Crossing, who had been to Boston the past year, and returned home by last Thursday's express from west, says he was robbed while at a North Sydney hotel waiting for the sailing of the s.s. Kyle, and relieved of one hundred dollars, which he carried in a small bag around his neck. Mr. Pye states that he was returning home with one hundred and twenty-five dollars, his savings of eleven months working at the Hub. At North Sydney he secured lodging at the Stamper house for a night. When he retired he had twenty-five dollars in his pants pocket and one hundred dollars in a bag which he carried inside of his shirts, fastened by a string around his neck. When he awoke in the morning the bag was outside and was empty. Fortunately what he had in his pockets was not disturbed. He reported the matter to the police, but he has very little expectation of ever recovering his loss.

A fire at Bishop Falls last Monday night destroyed the general store of a man named Myles.

SAYS IT BUILT HER UP TO HER NORMAL STRENGTH

St. John Woman Had Suffered From Indigestion Eighteen Years—Gains 25 Pounds and Health Completely Restored.

"Tanlac has built me up from one hundred pounds to one hundred and thirty-five pounds, which is my normal weight," said Mrs. Agnes Leetch, proprietor of the Stanley House, 190 Union St., St. John, N. B.

"I had suffered eighteen years from stomach trouble and I am so overjoyed at my recovery I just can't find words to express how happy I feel. It is simply marvellous how Tanlac has restored my health and if I live to be a hundred years old I will never get through praising it. Just to show what an awful condition I was in some times for days I couldn't retain a thing on my stomach.

"I am just like a different person every way now and I feel so well and strong it looks like I am starting life over again."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.

WE MIGHT HAVE KNOWN IT

Little River, April 18 Of course we might have known it. When we gathered together last Saturday evening and proceeded to Mr. John Doyle's to present him with a small token of our regard, and a tribute to his success in winning the horse race, and bringing the much coveted "cup" to Little River we might have known that our hospitable friend would hit back by making the occasion one of exceptional pleasure to us also.

And right well he performed the part. Not for many a night has such a jolly gathering been held in Little River, nor so many sincere friends, all animated with the one desire (to honor a worthy fellow citizen) been met together under one roof.

After the first exchange of cordial greetings and a merry fire of jests and laughter, Mr. Fitzpatrick rose and in a neat little speech full of humor and kindly sentiments, presented Mr. Doyle on behalf of himself and friends, with a purse. Our friend's reply was worthy of his modesty and his merit, traits for which he is well known.

After a short but sharp card battle, at which Little River easily demonstrated it ability to lick any set of players this valley could produce and the company had partaken of supper, Mr. Fitz. was again called upon, and responded with a humorous speech. After which a song by Mr. Thomas O'Quinn was followed by a typical song of the Maine lumber woods by Mr. Alec Doucette very quaint and amusing. Then speech and song and step dance followed in rapid succession "till the wee sma' hours" when the company broke up feeling that the night had been all too short.

Yours truly
ONE OF THEM.

WORK IN HAWKES BAY

Another Sign of the New Times

Many more men, we learn, would be employed at Hawke's Bay at the present time if it were not for the winter food shortage and the difficulty of providing house and shack accommodation on the shores of the bay and in the woods. Nothing, however, could be more satisfactory than present developments. News of what is taking place has evidently reached the other side of the country because telegrams have been received from Bonavista and other places, enquiring whether men and their families will be justified in coming to North-West coast and settling down there. We understand that the Public Welfare Committee will shortly hold a meeting at Port Saunders for the purpose of considering and publishing a statement respecting the new situation created by the promise of better times in the Hawkes Bay district and the possibilities of pioneering on the coast.

The Worst 5 Years

that I remember," writes Mrs. R. Terrell, of 169, Dorian St., Montreal, "was the time I was crippled with a bad leg. The trouble all started in an ordinary bruise, but in a day or two the injured part became worse, and soon it had developed into a painful open sore. I suffered intense pain, and walking about became so difficult that I had to give it up.

"I tried many different treatments—some proved no use at all, others did no more than temporary good. Then one day a friend strongly recommended Zam-Buk. This remarkable healer gave great ease and speedily brought about a marked improvement in the condition of my leg. I steadily persevered with the Zam-Buk treatment and within two months, the five-year-old sore was thoroughly and permanently healed."

Zam-Buk is a pure balm scientifically prepared from rich herbal oils and extracts. Its swift healing action is only equalled by its unique soothing and antiseptic properties and its capacity for growing new healthy skin.

Zam-Buk with its unlimited range of usefulness for skin diseases and injuries is a household necessity. Prepare for emergencies! Get a 50c. box from your druggist or store to-day!

R. S. C. DANCE

A hot supper and dance under the auspices of the Royal Scarlet Chapter of Bay of Islands, was held at Britannia Hall last Wednesday night. About two hundred people attended, and the committee in charged spared no efforts to make the affair an unqualified success. A number of Sir Knights and members of Humber L. O. L. attended from Humbermouth.

BAY OF ISLANDS LAD CIRCUMNAVIGATES GLOBE TEN TIMES

And Rounded Cape Horn 46 Times—Visited nearly every Country in the World

Bath, April 8th (Special.)—Bath is the home of one of the world's greatest mariners who ever trod the deck of a sailing ship, Capt. Richard Quick, with a record at sea which reads like fiction. A man who has circumnavigated the globe ten times, been as many times around the Cape of Good Hope, rounded Cape Horn 46 times, visited nearly every country in the world bordering on oceans and who is now enjoying life ashore. He has not retired, however. He is still in the employ of the Texas Steamship Co., and is home waiting word to command one of their craft. He is ready for more thrills.

It was through a world of hard knocks that Capt. Quick attained distinction as one of the foremost navigators of deep water craft. He was not born with a silver spoon in his mouth. His must have been pewter. Let him tell of his boyhood: I was born in Bay of Islands, Newfoundland, on Feb. 5th, 1868. When a baby I was taken to Bonne Bay and raised to the age of two years by my grandmother, my mother being sick all this time. I was the oldest of seven children. When I was only eight I went with a farmer and had to work hard one year getting five dollars a month. When I was twelve years old I went to the Banks fishing. I remember one night when I was seasick I went to bed and my father came and pulled me out and drove me on deck to my fish line and I stayed there all night and was all worn out in the morning and fell over exhausted. Father got me a cup of coffee and told me I was no good but I thought I had caught a good lot of fish, sick as I was.

SHIPPED AS A COOK

"Next year I thought I was quite a man and shipped with Thomas Martin as cook to five men on a fishing trip for $40 from May 15, until October 15, a lump sum. We went to Labrador and I got along very well, coming home in the fall and feeling pretty proud of my payday when I was to receive $25 that was due me. But when I came to settle I discovered that my father had owed the Captain a bill and my wages went towards paying that bill. That winter I went home. We were very poor and I did not have shoes to wear. A neighbour said if I would get him 40 pieces of very dry wood, about 8 feet to twelve feet long he would give me a pair of his old shoes. I took the offer, wrapped my feet up in old rags and started on the job and never stopped until I got the boots. But I did not wear them for some time as I froze my feet in earning them.

"Next spring being 14 I thought I could do a man's work, so I shipped with Capt. Wrayton on the schooner Ocean Belle, of 69 tons register. I worked hard with him all along the coast and I found when it came to all day and all night work I could not stand it like a man. As my father owed him a bill all my wages of $12 a month went towards paying it but I stayed with him steadily for two years. When the Belle had to be repaired and while this was being one I was to stay at the captain's house and go to school, but John Allen, owner of the schooner wanted me to live at his house, as there was lots of work to be done my schooling was cut short. In the Spring the Ocean Belle was almost a new vessel and I, 17 years old quite a man. I went mate, getting $18 a month coasting to Boston and other places.

"When she started to fit out for Newfoundland trade again I refused to go and left the old Belle and Capt Wrayton after three years service.

WILLIAM GRAHAM SHOUTS THE PRAISES OF DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

Hurt in 1919 He Searched in Vain for the Remedy He Needed Till He Started to Use Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Lindsay, Ont., April 24th (Special)—Mr. William Graham, who lives at 162 Queen St. here, is shouting the praises of Dodd's Kidney Pills. And when he tells the reason why the story is truly wonderful.

"I was hurt in 1919. Mr. Graham states, "the nerves in my left leg and arm were paralyzed I was in such shape I could not walk a mile. I could not go out at night as I would be sure to fall over.

"I tried eleven doctors and used different liniments but got no benefit. Then I started to use Dodd's Kidney Pills and they did me a lot of good. Now I can walk fifteen miles. I recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to all sufferers."

Dodd's Kidney Pills put the kidneys in shape to strain all the impurities out of the blood. That means pure blood. Pure blood means good circulation and that means new strength carried to all parts of the body.

Ask your neighbors if Dodd's Kidney Pills do not make strong, healthy kidneys.

Official Synopsis

The Minister of Justice continued.—Comparing conditions here with those of other countries the Attorney showed how England with a population of 55 millions had 1,800,000 unemployed. The British Government had stepped in with guarantees to encourage industrial projects so that the people might have a means of earning a sufficient for their immediate needs. In Canada there were grave problems arising out of unemployment. In the United States in spite of the fact that a vast proportion of the world's wealth was accumulated there 7 millions of people were said to be unemployed.

In this country practically everything depended on the success of the fishery and when this our chief industry went wrong and when that went wrong everything was bound to go wrong.

The present depression had been attributed to many causes and no doubt many things contributed to bring it about, but in his opinion the whole trouble was to be traced to the cut-throat policy pursued by the merchants in the disposal of their fish in the foreign markets Their agents waged a bitter campaign of competition, the result of which was senseless cutting of the prices.

He agreed with Mr. Higgins the member for St. John's East on the railway question which was one of the most serious questions facing the country at the present time, Although he himself had been a member of the party which brough the Branch Railway policy into existence. it has since been proven that it was a mistake to have built the branch lines.

There was not enough traffic on the branches to warrant their continued operation. The railway as at present run cannot pay and the country had to face that fact. There were a number of things that contributed to that state of affairs. The Government were considering the matter and he thought the railway should be looked upon as a public utility.

He was glad to be able to intimate that there was a good prospect of the Roumanian Bonds which certain Water Street firms had accepted or were compelled to accept in payment for their fish several years back were likely to be paid. This would relieve the stringency on Water Street and make a much brighter outlook of supplies for the fishery.

The Bell Island contract was next dealth with and any neglect on the Government's part to keep the mines in operation was refuted. The company had a million tons of ore already mined and on the surface at Bell Island which could not be marketed, but to help out the situation of unemployment the Company has undertaken to do some work and in turn the Government agreed to abrogate the export tax for one year. This export tax contract had been agreed to by the Company last year because they thought it was the best bargain that could be made with the Government.

It was true said Mr. Warren in concluding his address that at the present time things are not looking too bright but that was all the more reason why everybody should face matters with greater courage and determination. Nothing could be gained by preaching hard times and he appealed to everyone, both in the House and outside of it to put their shoulders to the wheel and co-operate to help give the country that impetus which is needed to put her on the road to better times and return to our former prosperous days.

Mr. Bennett repudiated the idea of any disloyalty what ever attaching to the utterances of the Opposition wherein it wss necessary to call the attention of the Governor to the paragraph in the Speech which was nothing more than a falsehood.

There is nothing plainer than that there was a deficit of two and a half million dollars when the revenue was eight and a half million and the expenditure was eleven million. Yet the average citizen reading the juggled words in the Speech would believe that the year closed with a surplus.

The tariff imposed last year is a chinese puzzle. The Prime Minister first imposed 25 per cent. on the tariff then in existence, next was added a super tax and next a sales tax until it is impossible for business people to import as in former years. Touching on the Roumanian Bonds Mr. Bennett said he hoped it was not the intention of the Government to guarantee these bonds. He had heard as much and it would probably be held as an inducement to give supplies.

Mr. Warren disclaimed any such intention on the part of the Government.

Mr. Bennett was not so sure about it as Mr. Warren was, and reminded him that he did not know all that was transpiring.

The intention of the House was then called to the fact that the the Auditor General was out of the country and had been for a considerable time.

Mr. Bennett closed with references to the Bell Island Contract and the part the Select Committee took in trying to make employment secure for the men who work in the Mines.

Mr. Higgins thought the time had arrived in the country when conditions were so serious that all camouflage had to be thrown to the wind. The paragraph in the Speech under review was pure camouflage. Then the only defence put up here by the official spokesman of the Government was that it was "critically correct." It was critically correct to say almost anything. For instance it was "critically correct" to say there was no such thing in existence.

Hon. the Prime Minister said it was customery in closing the debates on the Address in Reply for the Leader of the Government to answer the criticism of members of the Opposition, but before doing that he desired to heartily congratulate the Mover and Seconder of the Address on their able eloquent and well thought out speech in performing their respective duties in that capacity. They had not been subject to the bitter personal criticism that had on occasion characterised the debate on former similar occasions, indeed the personal criticism on the present occasion had been comparitively mild. He recalled a time some years back when the Rt. Hon. Sir Robert Bond occupied the seat of the Leader of the Opposition when the gentlemen tore the Speech from the Throne to shreds and not alone did the Government have to suffer the slings of his bitter criticism, but the Mover and Seconder of the Address in Reply were dealt with in no very gentle manner.

The Prime Minister went on to point out that the Paragraph in the Speech dealing with the financial situation was correct in phrase, correct in word, correct in formation, correct in fact and correct in spirit. As Mr. Higgins was wont to say it was "true in substance and in fact."

The paragraph says "the statements of expenditure and of revenue for the last fiscal year would be laid before the House in due course." Surely said the Prime Minister it can't be denied that this is correct in every particular Sir Michael Cashin admitted reluctantly that it was.

The paragraph further stated that "it will be seen from these that the expenditure is within the amount estimated. The Revenue slightly exceeded the Estimate and it was possible in closing the account to leave a balance to the credit of the Surplus Trust Account, larger than the amount set forth in the Budget Speech of last year."

That also said the Premier was true critically and absolutely. He wished to emphasize that last year the Opposition had predicted that when accounts were closed there would be an absolute deficit which could not be made up for by any available fund. It was particularly gratifying to know that instead of having a balance to the credit of surplus trust account of $73,000 as predicted by the Budget Speech of last year it had been found possible to leave a balance of $164,000
